

Allison Clinger has served on the Board of Directors for John Hancock Charter School for over 20 years. She was one of the original “moms in the park,” before JHCS was ever chartered by the State of Utah. She has served as secretary for the John Hancock Charter School Board for 17 years. She earned a master's degree in English from Brigham Young University. For three years she worked as an editor in the curriculum department of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Allison solely manages multiple rental properties around Utah County and does editing work for Workfront, a Lehi-based software company. In addition, she donates many hours a month to serving her local church community. Most of her time is spent being a wife, and a mom to five (mostly) teenagers, who all attended JHCS.
